Slickens Warrants Wanted—Nitro-Glycerine Shells—San Diego Wants Spreckels' Steamers.

Associated Press Dispatches to the Herald.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 9.—Mrs. Margaret E. Parker, of Scotland, founder of the British Women's Temperance Association, and who recently visited Southern California, says that she will endeavor to bring from England several thousand British women to take positions as house servants. She said: "It is my intention to call upon Senator Stanford and see what rates I can get for transportation. Of course I should not move one step in this direction unless I had organized committees at various points to receive these women, and I would go further. I would try and secure places for these women so that they need not be idle a day longer than was absolutely necessary when they arrived here. Just before I left England, I attended a meeting at the Mansion House, presided over by the Lord Mayor, at which the statement was made that 10,000 women crossed the Thames every day to work at five cents a day. These and other good women would be only too glad to accept service."

IMPORTANT INVENTION.

Nitro-Glycerine Safely Used in Projectiles.

A Terrible Shell.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 9.—A Russian inventor named Smolnitsky, living here, makes a claim to having discovered the way in which nitro-glycerine can be used with safety in projectiles. He has been experimenting with a ten-pound cannon north of this city, firing four-inch shells loaded with nitro-glycerine. His experiments have attracted the attention of army people and the public. A test will be made next Saturday. The shell is made in two parts, in the form of one conical shell within another, each of which is filled with liquid. The liquid is the nitro-glycerine. The outer shell is not to be used; but the shell is so arranged that when discharged from the gun one shell is moved over the other so as to open a communication between the two chambers, thus permitting the liquid to mix and form the high explosive known as nitro-glycerine. This is to be exploded either by a fuse or by the impact.

Drainage Act Warrants.

SACRAMENTO, June 9.—Parties holding Drainage Act claims have already begun making inquiries at the Controller's office as to when warrants will be drawn in accordance with the recent decision of the Supreme Court. Controller Dunn is not in the city, but those at his office are of the opinion that no warrants will be drawn within thirty days of the date of the recent decision. There are on file in the Controller's office, against what was known as the State Drainage Fund, claims amounting to $148,118.80, including one of Judge Niles Seares for three months' salary as one of the Commissioners. Against the State Drainage District No. 1, there are claims aggregating $16,384.57, making the grand total of claims, $164,503.37. The above claims are only those which were added; that is, those which were examined and allowed by the Drainage Commissioners. The aggregate of outstanding claims is not known, but it is thought that it will swell the total amount to over $200,000.

The advisability of admitting Solano county into the association was negatively decided. The convention then adjourned until tomorrow, when races will take place.

Pendergast, treasurer of the committee to collect funds for the relief of the families of the victims of the Nantamio mine disaster, telegraphed to the Mayor of that place $1000 contributed by miners on the Comstock lode. The miners in the Savage and Hale & Norcross contributed $300 last month, which swells the total sum contributed to the relief fund in this locality to $13,000.

The Government Left in the Lurch.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 9.—Collector Hager has found it impossible to proceed against the German bark Nautilus, which arrived here some time ago and with smuggled goods on board, and have her condemned, though the liquor and cigars found on board her have been confiscated. RAILROAD GOSPEL.

Rattlesnake Island—Probable Extension of Utah Southern.

NEW YORK, June 9.—An official of the Southern Pacific Railroad says that the story to the effect that the Union Pacific has purchased Rattlesnake Island, near Los Angeles, is not believed by the bankers. The bankers claim that there is a prospect of the extension of the Utah Southern into Southern California, but that would be more prejudicial to the Atchison than to any other company. The theory that the Burlington company would join in an extension has no better foundation. The laying of a third rail on the Denver and Rio Grande is an indication that it is to be absorbed by the Burlington, which will thus make Ogden its western terminal.

Mooring and the Morgan House, a three-story frame structure. The occupants barely escaped with their lives. Henry Her and Matt Peake, firemen, were buried in the mass of debris by a falling wall. Her was killed, and Peake so badly burned and bruised that he will die. Humphrey Reeves, manager of the Standard Gas Machine and Economizer Company, was blown out of the building across the pavement with his clothes ablaze. He threw himself into the gutter and extinguished the fire, but not until he was horribly burned. James Reynolds and W. D. Miller, of Washington, D. C., two white men, and a negro named Peter Jones, were also terribly burned. Several other firemen were slightly injured, and some overcome by heat.

PROGRESS AND POVERTY.

McMackin Arrives O'Brien for Inconsistency.

NEW YORK, June 9.—John McMackin, a leader of the Henry George party in this city, whose position as chairman of the mass meeting in honor of William O'Brien, on Saturday evening, caused the latter gentleman to deny himself to the eyes of the great throng, has written an open letter touching that episode, and denounces the charges which O'Brien hurled at him (McMackin) in his speech at the Hoffman House banquet on Monday night. McMackin is very bitter in his denunciation of O'Brien and those with whom he associated in New York. The central idea of the letter is that O'Brien does not want to free the tenants of Ireland from landlordism by nationalizing land, but merely wants to change landlords; that, after going to Canada to denounce Lord Lansdowne, he comes to New York and hush-hush with landlords who are habitually guilty of evictions as cruel as those practiced against the Luggacuran tenants of the Governor-General.

At present Black Thairians command $2 to $2.25 for ten-pound boxes, and $1.75 to $2 for large white; soft stock ranges down to $1. California lemons are dull at 75c to $1 per box. Some late arrivals have been in very poor order. Some California peaches are on the market but not in any great quantity.

HELENA, Mont., June 9.—Considerable discontent has been manifested over the action of Indian Agent Spencer in allowing a number of Sioux Indians to visit the Crows at their reservation. Williamson has asked for a force to intercept the Sioux and send them back to their reservation.

The Murderous Apaches Still Fleeing.

Trouble Between the Crows and Sioux—Cleveland Returns.

Associated Press Dispatches to the Herald.

TUCSON, A. T., June 9.—Nine Indians camped near the Empire ranch last night. A party of cattlemen took up their trail this morning, which is bearing northeast to the Santa Catalina mountains. Of these same Indians, who killed Mike Grace yesterday, near Crittenden, a Pantano special says: "The Indians crossed the railroad track, one mile west of here, at 5 o'clock this afternoon. They were seen by parties here, and are hotly pursued by Lawton and Johnson's command. They are bound north for the Santa Catalina mountains. It is believed by old settlers here in Tucson that the Indians are trying to get back to the reservation, as they find the country too thickly settled. This tribe has not been off the reservation for sixteen years."

THE HOSTILES.

Particulars of the Killing of Grace.

TOMBSTONE, A. T., June 9.—The Daily Prospector contains the following details of the killing of Mike Grace near Crittenden: This morning, after daylight, the Indians shot several times into Billy Williams' cabin, when he and Billy Lee were in bed. One bullet passed through Lee's pants which were rolled up under his head, and about that time Mike Grace came along, and they shot him to death. Then they left and went up the cañon after Williams' horses. Williams and Lee ran out and grabbed Mike's gun lying beside him on the ground. The Indians, knowing they had not killed him in the cabin, did not venture to rob Mike. The hostiles have apparently divided into small parties, after their usual custom, and are trying to reach Sonora, Mexico. The first report of the killing of Mike Grace, which is now thought to be a mistake as to the name of the victim, is that he was killed in a widely different locality at the same time. Lieutenant McNutt, with half a company of infantry, is traveling down the Santa Cruz River on the Sonora line, and six troops of cavalry are scouting the mountains in detachments.

W. B. Norton, post trader at San Carlos, telegraphs that there are hostiles in the Santa Catalina mountains. This strengthens the belief that there are a large number on the warpath. There are huge forest fires raging in the Patagonia and Santa Barbara mountains near this place, which were undoubtedly set on fire by the hostiles.

SUTTER'S SHOT.

He Crosses James Mack—Relieved of His Star.

YESTERDAY evening Deputy Constable Sutter, who had in his pocket a warrant for the arrest of James Mack on a charge of petit larceny for taking a set of billiard balls from a saloon on Main street, met his man in Brown's saloon on Los Angeles street. Sutter walked up to him, and taking out the warrant started to read it, Mack seized the opportunity while Sutter was engrossed in reading the document to sneak out of the saloon, and when Sutter looked up his prisoner had disappeared. Sutter sprang to the door and saw Mack fleeing down the street. Sutter ordered Mack to stop, but no attention was paid to the order, and Sutter pulling his revolver shot at the escaping man. This shot did not hit its intended mark, but Mack leaped to be shot by staggering, and then continued his flight. Sutter fired the second time and brought down his man. When he reached Mack he found that he had creased him, the ball passing along the back of the neck and inflicting only a flesh wound. Sutter took Mack to the county jail, where the wound was dressed and the prisoner sent to bed. Mack stated that he had no bad feelings toward Sutter, who had done his duty. He knew he had done wrong and deserved all he got. Sutter went to the jail prison to give himself up, but Justice Austin telephoned that the only thing necessary was for Sutter to appear before him in the morning. Sutter then went out to look for Mack's partner and while out he was despoiled from office by Constable Ed. Smith for another matter which happened earlier in the day. It was stated that during the day a man giving his name as M. Bennett, but who is said to be a shoemaker named Simons, a resident of Wilmington, went into a house of prostitution on Alameda street, and after spending some time there was about to depart when one of the inmates asked him to remain, stating that a friend would be in shortly with some beer. Bennett or Simons waited, and shortly afterward Sutter appeared with a bottle of beer under each arm. After drinking the beer a quarrel occurred, and Sutter arrested Bennett or Simons and took him to the county jail, where he charged him with impersonating an officer, and ordered that he should be retained in custody unless he furnished $50 bail. Bennett only had $43 in his possession, and he obtained permission to go out in charge of an officer to obtain the balance of his bail money. While out he met the Sheriff, who ordered that he be released on depositing the $43. Shortly afterward Constable Ed. Smith heard of the occurrence and, accompanying the Sheriff to the county jail, ordered that Bennett or Simons' deposit be returned and that he be released on his own recognizance to appear in court this morning at 9 o'clock. It was on this account that Sutter was relieved of his star, but Sutter is emphatic in his denial of the charge, and states that he can prove that Bennett or Simons went to the house of ill fame and impersonated an officer, demanded the payment of money for a license. It was stated at the police station that it had been reported that some person, or persons, had been impersonating police officers about town, and that a lookout is being kept for the guilty parties. The entire affair will be ventilated in the court to-day, and if Sutter proves his assertions he will be exonerated.

DAILY HERALD.

THE UNION PACIFIC.

A Prospector Who Knows the Lower Country.

DAGGETT, June 6, 1887.

EDITORS LOS ANGELES HERALD:—In the San Francisco Examiner of June 1st, appears an article headed "The Island Mystery," in which it says "that the distance the Union Pacific railroad would have to build to reach into Southern California would be almost 1000 miles, and the road would have to run through hundreds of miles of alkali flats and lava fields and that it would present no practical possibilities for local business." Now the gentleman who wrote that article was either totally ignorant of the country, or else wilfully falsified the facts for a purpose. The real facts of the case are simply this: There are not over 350 miles to build, and I am personally acquainted with most of the country through which the road would have to pass should they build through to Los Angeles by way of this place. After leaving the line of the Atlantic and Pacific railroad going towards Frisco, Utah, the present terminus of the Central Utah railroad, the line would pass through an almost unbroken chain of country rich in all of the known valuable minerals and alkalis. The mountains range near which the road would run are filled with ledges rich in gold, silver, copper, iron and lead; white borax, salt almost pure, kaolin and other material for fine pottery abounds. Foliated soil, largely used in glazing and in the manufacture of writing papers. Huge beds of soda and sulphur, and coal fields almost unlimited abound upon the flats and lower hills, whilst here and there large tracts of grazing and agricultural lands are only awaiting the advent of a railroad to build up on this now isolated region a large, prosperous and wealthy community. Let him but look at the map and trace the line of the proposed road and he finds that it will pass through at least fifty mining camps known to be rich in minerals and lacking cheap fuel and transportation to make them bullion producers second to none on the coast. There are many miners and prospectors, who, to my own knowledge, have for years and years been working and holding their claims, anxiously and patiently awaiting the good time when the building of a railroad would realize their long anticipations. Now what I have written regarding this country are facts, and can be corroborated by hundreds of prospectors and others who have traveled over it. There is one thing, Mr. Editor, that is very surprising to all old miners and prospectors is the way the fair, and generally impartial editors of city journals are imposed upon by penny-a-liners, especially those who write up mining news. Is it ignorance or malice that prompts them? I for one am inclined to think it the former, and it could be easily remedied, for in any city can be found numbers of reliable men who know the various portions of the mining country, who would gladly set them right if their reporters would only take the trouble to interview them instead of consulting some one who fills them up with hogwash.

The Oro Grande Company's sixty-stamp mill has large portion of the frame work up. All the lumber is on the ground and a large force of carpenters, stone masons and laborers are at work.

Mr. J. B. Osborn has arrived and his newly invented steam wagon will be here in a day or two. A new mill is being built at the gold mines at Dry Lake, some forty miles south of this. Experts are now down examining the rich deposits of Soda Lake. All the mills around Calico are busy at work with the exception of the Waterman mill.

The weather has been unusually cool all spring and summer, and everything points to a new era of prosperity. The one thing greatly needed to give us a portion of the "boom" is the early completion of a railroad into the rich mineral region which would be opened by a road connecting Los Angeles with Salt Lake City. Do what you can, and the Herald will still continue to be the voice of most of the old trail-builders.

The news from Providence and Mesal are very encouraging; also, from all mining camps to the south and west of us.

An Embryo Colony.

Articles of incorporation have been filed in the County Clerk's office by the Aurantasia Company, incorporating a joint stock organization with a capital of $500,000, for the purpose of founding a colony on the north side of the San Bernardino range, within six miles of the S. P. R. track, and east of the Mojave river. The company have secured 50,000 acres of land, and their first move will be to develop water in the mountains, or take it from the Mojave river and carry it over the tract. The stockholders have elected directors, the officers of the company have been appointed, and everything is now ready to proceed with business. Our old fellow citizen, ex-Mayor John G. Nichols, is the prime mover in this enterprise, and he says that the land has superior advantages to make a colony successful. It is situated about 120 miles in an easterly direction from Los Angeles. We are told that "aurantasia" applies to the palm and similar trees. As a colony for a popular colony it is hideous. It is too long and too pedantic, and should the colony flourish it will be clipped of its classical wings, and probably be called "Aurang," or some other abbreviation that can be easily spoken.

The Police Court.

There is considerable complaint among the police in relation to the hours set for hearing the cases they have to attend in Justice Austin's Court. It appears that frequently arrests are made during the night watch and the cases are called at 9 o'clock in the morning. The officers are relieved at 4 o'clock in the morning, and it is generally used by the police at the time they get to sleep. To attend court at 9 o'clock they are so broken that they feel more like allowing offenders to depart than to take them in and lose their much needed sleep. If the police cases were called at 2 o'clock or 4 o'clock in the afternoon the arrangement would be satisfactory all around.

Insane Imaginings.

S. T. Quackenbush, who has been employed in the stable belonging to the Natick House, has been consigned to the insane asylum at Stockton, and left last evening in charge of Deputy Sheriff Benedict. Quackenbush says that he was born in Orange county, New York, and that he is 39 years of age. He had always been a good citizen until he came to Los Angeles and heard Mr. Truesdale lecture, and then he became insane. He imagines that the spiritualists have gained control of him, and he doesn't object to being protected from them.

A Great Bull Game.
The baseball match to take place tomorrow at the Sixth street grounds is attracting the attention and patronage it deserves. The game will be called promptly at 2 P. M., and an exciting contest will undoubtedly take place. The uniforms are completed, and the decision of the committee as to the placing of prizes will be rendered at the meeting to be held this evening. Favors for the ladies will be as follows: For the Conestables, pinks; for the pansies; and will be delivered gratis at the gate. The Seventh Infantry band will be in attendance to enliven the occasion with music, programmes of which will be furnished, and all comers can rest assured that order and pleasure will be the rule. The "peace-makers" expect to hand Mrs. Watson a good round sum for the benefit of her "Home for Stray Girls."

Father Foran's Will.
The will of Father Foran, who committed suicide at Anaheim has been admitted to probate. He leaves to his sister in France his real estate and personal property, including $6500 in Government bonds. He asks that his corpse shall not be buried until it shows evident signs of decomposition. He sets aside $30 for funeral expenses, and $500 for a monument. Mr. J. M. Elliott is appointed executor.

Robbed by His Roommate.
John Dupee and James O'Neil have been rooming together but occupying separate beds at a boarding house near the corner of Sixth and Olive streets. Yesterday morning Dupee arose and found that his room mate O'Neil had disappeared, taking with him the contents of his pants pockets, amounting to about ninety dollars. A warrant has been issued for the arrest of O'Neil, but no trace of his whereabouts has been found.

Bettered Her Condition.
Theresa Chacona, who left her home on the 14th of May, was found yesterday by Officer Botello. Theresa was employed in a very respectable family and was working for her living. She stated that she had no particular trouble at home, but her stepfather was poor, and she could better herself by earning her own living. She was allowed to return to the place where she has been working.

Disease and Death.
Force their way into many a household that might be protected from their inroads, by the simple precaution of keeping in the house that benign family medicine and safeguard of health, Rosecrans' Stomach Bitters. Particularly where there are children, should it be kept on hand, as a prompt remedy for infantile complaints, in their outset easily conquerable, but which, if allowed to engraft themselves on the delicate childish organism, are not easily dislodged, and speedily work grievous mischief. Irregularity of the bowels, indigestion and biliousness, are ailments of common occurrence in the household. Children, living in malarious regions, are more liable to be attacked with chills and fever than adults, and the ravages of that fell disease in their system are speedier and more serious. In remote localities, far from professional aid, it is especially desirable.

Cure for Piles.
The sure effects of Ayer's Sarsaparilla are thorough and permanent. If there is a lurking taint of scrofula about you, Ayer's Sarsaparilla will dislodge and expel it from your system.

Unnecessary Misery.
Probably as much misery comes from natural constipation as from any derangement of the functions of the body, and it is difficult to cure, for the reason that no one likes to take the medicines usually prescribed. Hamburg Figs were prepared to obviate this difficulty, and they will be found pleasant to the taste of women and children; 25 cents at all druggists. J. J. Mack & Co. proprietors, San Francisco.

New Domestic Lime.
The Los Angeles Storage, Commission and Lumber Company, San Pedro street, near Third, have the agency of the "Summit Lime Company," of Tebechepe, for the manufacture of lime. They guarantee the best quality of lime, being manufactured by the H. T. Holmes Lime Company, of Santa Cruz, one of the oldest manufacturers in the state, whose name alone is a guarantee of the quality of the lime manufactured by them.

Startling but True.
WILLS POINT, TEXAS, December 1, 1885. After suffering for more than three years with disease of the throat and lungs, I got so low last spring I was entirely unable to do anything, and my cough was so bad I could not sleep at night. My Druggist, Mr. H. G. Goodnight, sent me a trial bottle of DR. HENLEY'S COUGH AND LUNG SYRUP. I found relief, and after using six $1.00 bottles, I was entirely cured. J. M. WELDEN. Sample bottle 5 cents at C. F. Heinemann's.

Cement.
The Los Angeles Storage, Commission and Lumber Company, San Pedro street, near Third, are doing the largest business in cement of any concern in the southern part of the State. Being agents of Davis & Cowell, the heaviest importers of cement in the country, and having superior warehousing facilities, they can sell cement as low or lower than any other dealers, and will not be undersold.

Where is Huntington?
Half way between Pasadena and Monrovia on the beautiful foothills, 600,000 Feet.
Of thoroughly seasoned finishing lumber, comprising ceiling, floor, wallcovering and casing stock, is now being unloaded at our various yards. This lumber is all first-class and very dry.

John Weiland Brewing Co.
Of San Francisco received during 1886 first medals and premiums for best "Bottled" and "Draught Lager Beer" at State Fair, Sacramento, Mechanics' Fair, San Francisco, San Joaquin Fair, Stockton, and Sixth District Fair, Los Angeles. This celebrated beer is for sale at nearly all the leading saloons of Los Angeles. Steinke & Bruning, 222 North Alameda street, are the sole agents and bottlers.

The New Town.
Of Broad Acres, where lots are selling so rapidly, at $50, might well be called the Hub. It is just eight miles from Los Angeles, La Balfons, San Pedro, Long Beach, and three and a half miles from Compton. A very desirable location. Cool in summer, and warm in winter. Strawberries are raised the year round.

Go Out.
To the town of Broad Acres. Lots $50x120, $50 each, $100 per acre. No interest. No. 25 North Spring street.

Dots.
J. W. Davis, Prescriptions Druggist, Hollywood, the new city at Calhoun. Horse blankets and buggy robes at Foy's harness shop.
